WINTHROP, MA, August 09, 2009 /24-7PressRelease/ -- Boating associates Robin G. Coles of TheNauticalLifestyle.com and John Crosby of Northeast Yacht Brokerage announces their seminar series "1st Time Boat Buyers". The first date is set for Saturday September 26, 2009 at Marriott Courtyard East Boston, MA. "Boats are selling and based on years of experience in selling boats," says Crosby, "the last two months of boating season here in New England are definitely a "buyers" market."

This 1st Time Boat Buyers Seminar offers enthusiasts an opportunity for like-minded boat buyers to meet together, learn from yacht, insurance and financial brokers, surveyors, etc.

"There's a lot to know in buying a boat," states Coles, "especially your first one." For example, boater's insurance is a lot more complicated than that for your car. Yacht clubs and marinas have their requirements, you also need insurance for hull and equipment, tender, radio, GPS, fuel spillage, just to mention a few. Some of the mistakes people make are buying a boat that's too small. We'll teach them about choosing a boat that's right for them, what to look for, what to expect from a surveyor/sea trial, explain insurance requirements, how to get financing and more.
